

One of Canada's leading universities, Queen's has a long-standing reputation for academic excellence, research and a diverse and vibrant learning environment. With its strong tradition of public service, the University has helped to shape Canadian values and policies, educating notable political and cultural figures.

Queen's University is located in the heart of the community in historic Kingston, midpoint between Montreal and Toronto, and the nation's capital.

CLINICIAN SCIENTISTS

School of Medicine

The School of Medicine at Queen's University is currently seeking clinician scientists in a broad range of health research disciplines. Qualified applicants will hold an MD degree (or equivalent), have completed postgraduate qualifications prior to appointment, be eligible for licensure in Ontario, and have outstanding emerging or established research programs. Successful candidates will be provided a minimum of 50% of protected time to pursue research activities. They will also be expected to contribute to the teaching, supervision and mentorship of undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate students. Academic rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. For further information on the School of Medicine, please visit <http://meds.queensu.ca/>.

Review of applications will commence on May 1, 2011, and continue until the positions are filled. Applications should include a full curriculum vitae, a description of research accomplishments and future directions, and evidence of involvement in, and commitment to, medical education. Identification of three referees who can attest to the applicant's research capabilities and educational experience is requested. Applications are to be directed to: Dr. Richard Reznick, Dean, Faculty of Health Sciences, c/o Mrs. Gail Knutson, Senior Staffing Officer, Macklem House, 18 Barrie Street, Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, K7L 3N6. E-mail: gail.knutson@queensu.ca. The University thanks all who express an interest in these positions.

www.hr.queensu.ca

Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, and persons of any sexual orientation or gender identity. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority

	Job#:	Q30-HRS-522.indd	Version:	2
	Date:	2011-03-04 4:00pm	Operator:	Cara
	Size:	3.25" X 10"	Page:	1
			Lines:	set

1A National